

OFFERTE DI LAVORO

ANNUNCIO 10

The Catholic University of America - Washington, D.C.

The Department of Modern Languages - Literatures at The Catholic University of America (Washington, DC) invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track lectureship position in Italian, beginning in Fall 2008, with possibility of annual renewal. Responsibilities include teaching 3 courses per semester, supervising introductory and/or intermediate language courses, serving as advisor to the Italian Club, and assisting the program director with events (symposia, lectures, etc.). Applicants must have native or near-native fluency in Italian and English, hold an MA (or equivalent) in Italian, and have teaching experience in American academic institutions. The ideal candidate will have evidence of teaching excellence, expertise in foreign language pedagogy, strong interpersonal skills, collegiality, and ability to work in a team; enthusiasm/interest in teaching communicative, learner centered, Italian language and culture courses, and demonstrate experience with the use of technology in the classroom.

Please send letter of application, CV, recent course evaluations and names and contact information for 3 references to: Dr. Joan Grimbert, Chair Dept. of Modern Languages – Literatures, The Catholic University of America Washington, DC 20064

Please send electronic copies of CV to:

Email: grimberty@cua.edu and lucamante@cua.edu