A Symposium/Workshop for Instructional Materials Meeting I: Speaking

---

Friday, September 26, 2008 8:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m.
Montclair State University Student Center
One Normal Avenue, Montclair, New Jersey 07043

This annual symposium intends to provide high school and college instructors with both methodological background and hands-on experience on how to create pedagogically sound instructional materials. In a combination of workshops and discussions with our facilitators, participants will learn to:

- Examine and critique various design models
- Investigate different theoretical approaches
- Create their own series of materials for immediate classroom use
